

Job Description

Artist Support Worker

Artist Bridget O’Gorman is looking to hire a support worker to help make a sculpture for TULCA Festival of Visual Arts 2023.

The location of the job is in Cahir, Tipperary.

Pay is €150 per day.

The job is five full days in August and five full days in September 2023. The working day is 10am - 6pm.

To apply email curator2023@tulca.ie a CV (2 page max) and a cover letter (1 page max).

You can apply using text or an audio message.

Deadline to apply Monday, July 3rd 2023.

An informal interview will be conducted online on the week commencing 10th July.

You need experience of making sculptures including using clay, silicone and pigment. Be able to lift, use a ladder and perform manual tasks. Be organised and maintain good health and safety/housekeeping standards.

It's desirable that you have experience working with disabled artists or experience of support work .Are a graduate of Sculpture or Craft third-level degree or have similar experience. Live in Tipperary or the Midwest.

You'll be working with artist Bridget O'Gorman and producer Iarlaith Ní Fheorais.

If you have access needs relevant to the role, please include details in a separate page alongside your cover letter.

Please email Iarlaith at curato2023@tulca.ie if you have any questions or require support in making your application.

Notes to applicants:

Unfortunately we are unable to provide feedback to unsuccessful applicants.

This role is supported by the Arts and Disability Ireland Connect New Work Award 2023, field:arts and TULCA Festival of Visual Arts. TULCA Festival of Visual Arts is supported by the Arts Council, Galway County Council and Galway City Council.

